

Jesus, in the face of his plotting religious and political enemies, gives them a level playing field to rake him over the coals with their toughest questions, and without restriction.

In the end, they silence themselves, exhausting their inner resources to question him further. In this process, they publicly prove him to be the blameless Lamb of God, empowered and qualified to atone for human sin, proceed to the cross, resurrection, ascension, and Second Coming as King of kings and Lord of lords.

This is the needed paradigm shift to overturn politics as usual. Therefore, in the face of political evil, if a modest core of biblically committed believers were to run for political office, rooted in the wisdom of Jesus in the face of his enemies, in a rigorous embrace of the level playing field where skeptics are genuinely heard and given freedom to pose their toughest questions – success would come to pass.

Nations would shake, tyrants would come crashing down in the implosion of their own devices, and people of goodwill everywhere will rejoice. And the Gospel's intrinsic power to advance religious, political, and economic liberty for all will be celebrated.
